CITY NOTES.

—John's restaurant. Fried oysters, 25 cents per dozen, in a box. Seventh and D streets.

—The Marshall yesterday filled the shop Arthur T. Jones to satisfy the wages of William Mason, cook, amounting to $100.50.

—Pure Newfoundland Cod Liver Oil, at 50¢ per bottle (a full pint), at Drew's drug store, corner Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

—A little colored boy named William Woodson attempted to snatch a lady's pocketbook, on Pennsylvania avenue, near Ninth street, yesterday. He was detected in the act and arrested by Sergeant Gay.

—John Brunel, the man who was arrested for working upon the sympathies of Dr. Sanderford to the effect of a dollar, and was committed until today, when the testimony of the physicians having knowledge of the case will be heard.

—A number of new social clubs have been organized for the season. There has been a drain on the alphabet to furnish initial titles for the clubs. The O. S. K. H. W. P. has so far monopolized more letters than any other organization.

—At the last meeting of the executive committee appointed at the musical mass meeting, held at the Congregational Church, sub-committees were appointed to prepare reports to be submitted at the next meeting, which will be held November 4.

—Yesterday afternoon a pair of horses attached to a lumber wagon standing on Riley's wharf became frightened and dashed off at a furious rate to the edge of the dock, and were only prevented from going overboard by coming in contact with a schooner which was lying close by the wharf.

—About nine o'clock yesterday morning a boy named Charles Day, colored, was suddenly shot in the left foot while passing a Smith & Wesson seven-shooter to his comrade, a boy named Charles Reed, at No. 1609 Eleventh street. He was taken to the Freedman's Hospital by Officer Carruthers, of the Second Precinct.

—A revival of religion has been progressing for some days at Union M. E. Church, in this city. Twentieth street, near Pennsylvania avenue. The well-known evangelist, Rev. J. A. Wood, author of "Perfect Love," is now working with the pastor nightly, with evidently increasing interest. A great meeting is expected.

—The Atlas, a weekly society journal, edited by Mr. Will A. West, has made its appearance as a forerunner of the gayeties of the season. The sheet is of a convenient size and very neat in appearance. Under Mr. West's able management it is expected that the Atlas will eclipse all similar enterprises hitherto floated out upon the uncertain sea of journalism in this city.

THE OPENING SEASON.

At the Opera—Fashion and Haberdashery—

Waiting for the Dance to Begin.

Secretary and Mrs. Sherman occupied a private box at the National Theatre last week, witnessing the performance of the "Bohemian Girl" and "Chimes of Normandy." One can readily imagine what a pleasant evening's diversion it must be to listen to sweet strains of music after a day of official burden, anxiety, and work. During Mr. Lincoln's administration a lady of this city was called upon several times during the same month by friends from a distance to go with them to "see the President."

Although of an obliging disposition, she felt afraid she would, in pleasing her friends, annoy the President, and during the third visit said so to him. "Not at all, madame," remarked Mr. Lincoln; "when I feel sure there is no 'ax to grind' it is a pleasant relief to turn aside for a few moments from work and anxiety." No one doubts that the same feeling of relief is experienced now by high officials when they spend an evening in enjoyment and rest.

Although not many of our Congressional solons have as yet arrived, the well-filled seats in most of our churches on last Sabbath show that the city is rapidly filling up. At New York Avenue Church the communion was administered by the new pastor, Mr. Paxton. He preached a touching sermon from the text, "It is finished," and received the new membership into the church in an impressive manner. He requested them to rise for benedictions, during which time he addressed them a few words of welcome. He then asked the officers and members of the church to rise also, and appropriately recommended each to the other's fellowship and sympathy.

A new material for trimming hats and bonnets is displayed by several of our milliners and merchants who import fancy goods. It is a plaid silk fabric, and is shown in very bright colors. A light felt hat from E. G. Davis was worn at the opera one evening last week, trimmed with the bright scarlet, coral, and white plaid.

The trimming was completed with shaded ostrich plumes, a pearl ornament, and cardinal satin bows and strings. The lady wore a set of exquisite pearls from Galt's, and the appearance of hat and jewelry would seem to prove that no lady need leave our city, to the neglect of its local interest, to purchase fashionable and elegant articles elsewhere.

Our young people are growing impatient to begin "dancing for the season," and some of them, not being able to see the least reason why they should wait for Congress to convene, are they begin the "German," are projecting a series of Germans, the first to be given next week, and continue at short intervals until the Lenten season. Another club have already commenced, and held a delightful soiree at Mr. Murdoch's, on Vermont avenue, last Thursday evening. Miss Donaldson, Miss Murdoch, Miss Stewart, and Messrs. Hoff, Lewis, Mun, and Gladstone are among the members of the club, and they propose to have much pleasure the coming winter.

EISENMAN BROS.' popular price system is having a telling effect. Their establishment is crowded from morning to night with customers in quest of clothing.

ATTENTION! First class French Kid Boots, at $2.50, and put button boots, $1, at the great Boston Shoe Auction House, 401 Pennsylvania avenue.

Saks, the Clothier.

The success which has attended the enterprise of our energetic merchant, Mr. A. Saks, seems quite remarkable; but to those who know him and his methods of doing business it is easily understood. To do business in a straightforward manner, relying upon small profits to make a good return in large sales; to have the best of goods on his shelves and the best of workmen in his shop; to advertise liberally and persistently, thereby letting the public know that he can offer them superior bargains—these are the principles upon which his success is founded. Mr. Saks now has two mammoth establishments in this city, 921 Pennsylvania avenue and 315 Seventh street, and seems determined to keep beyond the reach of competition. It is well known that for style of cut, quality of goods and workmanship and lowness of price, Saks has never been excelled. He has now a line of goods of the most elegant description just imported from Europe, and carefully selected by Mr. Saks in person.

ATTENTION is called to men's hand-attached calf Gaiters—$3.50 to $4—at the great Boston Shoe Auction House, 401 Pennsylvania avenue.

Our $15 ready-made suits surpass any $30 suit made to order in the city. Katzenstein.

A Tale of Two Cities.

The undersigned certify that they held for collection for account of H. C. Williams & Co., brokers, 40 Wall street, New York, half ticket No. 52,313, class I, in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the capital prize of $2,500 on Tuesday, September 19, 1878, said ticket having cost the sum of $1 at the office of H. L. Plum, 310 Broadway, New York, and that the amount was promptly paid on presentation of the ticket at the office of Mr. M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

F. A. LEE & CO., Brokers, 165 Common street, New Orleans, La.

Men's heavy kip Boots, at $1.75, at the great Boston Shoe Auction House, 401 Pennsylvania avenue.

The best $8 and $10 suit in the country, at Katzenstein's, 315 Seventh street.

Riley's New Store.

Ladies should not fail to call at Mr. William R. Riley's new store, corner of Ninth and E streets northwest. He is receiving every day new goods of all kinds, and has an assortment of dry goods which every lady who has purchases to make should inspect. The stock is full in all departments, including fine silks, cashmeres, and English crape veils. A large lot of new cloaks of the best make and finish has just been received for the winter trade.

Men's, youths', and boys' Overcoats. The largest assortment in the District. Eisenman Bros., Popular Price Clothiers, cor. 7th and E streets northwest.

Beautiful black diagonal Overcoats for $10, at Katzenstein's, 315 Seventh street.

A Love of a Bonnet.

Davis' handsome store, corner of Eighth street and Market space, seems to be a place of special attraction for ladies when out shopping, as it is always crowded and the clerks are never idle. Tomorrow will be the occasion of the second opening of fall and winter millinery, and a superb assortment of pattern bonnets and trimmed round hats of the latest styles and newest materials will be offered for the inspection of the ladies.

CHILDREN'S and boys' Suits from $3 to $15 at Katzenstein's, 315 Seventh street.

Get Ready for Winter.

The approach of winter makes it necessary to look after the heating apparatus of houses. Persons who have to invest in stoves, ranges, or heaters should visit Mr. W. H. Harrower's store, No. 315 Seventh street northwest, where the best of stoves, ranges, and heaters are kept for sale. Orders will be received for repairing heaters, furnaces, stoves, &c. Mr. Harrower has also a fine assortment of table cutlery, tinware, and house-furnishing goods.

HOUSE COVERS and Blankets at Topham's, corner of Third and E streets, 402 Seventh street.

Grand Opening.

The new restaurant of Edward Smith, No. 413 and 415 Ninth street northwest, the finest establishment of its kind in the District, is about to be opened to the public on Thursday, October 31.

$18 suits to order. Eisenman Bros., 7th and E.

GENERAL CITY AFFAIRS.

Local Affairs Recorded by the Republican.

A Schooner Fast Aground—Relief for the Yellow Fever Sufferers—The Stand-Pipe Nearly Completed—Location Suggested for the Proposed Music Hall—Another Divorce Granted, &c., &c.

Relief for the Fever Sufferers.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Relief Commission yesterday the following dispatches were received:

AT QUARANTINE BELOW ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 29, 1878.

Dr. Woodward: Your letters received. All well. Furnishing and cooking at least perfectly satisfactory to Dr. Noe's quarantining physicians. I leave for Cairo tomorrow if possible. DR. KEYSER.

AT QUARANTINE BELOW ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 29, 1878.

Governor A. R. Shepherd: Arrived all right. Everybody well. Will you have the Secretary of War grant me ninety days delay pending my studies. LIEUTENANT CHARLES S. HALL.

Two hundred dollars was appropriated for the relief of Jackson, Miss.

Hon. O. R. Singleton, a Representative from Mississippi, called on Secretary Evans yesterday and detailed the sufferings and wants in various localities in his State occasioned by the ravages of yellow fever. On the recommendation of Mr. Singleton the Secretary remitted from the fund intended to him as follows: Canton, $200; Port Gibson, $200; Lake, $200; Uxka, $200, and Gretna, $200.

Later in the day Colonel J. S. Hamilton, of Jackson, Miss., where the pestilence is raging with unabated fury, visited the Secretary, and at his instance $200 were remitted to the mayor of that city.

The distribution of funds by Mr. Evans is timely, and will be the means of affording great relief, particularly because the funds of committees generally have been exhausted, and frost having appeared, there is believed to be no necessity for further contributions. The fact is, however, that great destitution and suffering must be endured by many people in the stricken districts for weeks after the scourge has entirely abated.

The treasurer of the Relief Commission was authorized yesterday to pay the draft of W. H. Bliss, United States district attorney, St. Louis, Mo., for $2,300, the balance due for payment of charter, hire of pilots, and repairs to the relief boat John M. Chambers.

The Proposed Music Hall.

The public reservation bounded by Market Space, Seventh street, Pennsylvania avenue, and Eighth street is talked of by many persons as a suitable site upon which to erect the proposed music hall. It has been proposed by some to ask Congress to donate the lot and to have the building known as the National Music Hall. Those in favor of this location urge that no better position could be selected. This location is central, besides the tramway lines, except the Columbia and Bell line, now run in close proximity thereto. The Bell line will, however, in the future, as there is to be an extension of that line down D street.

The lot affords an abundance of room for the erection of an elegant of spacious structure, sloping from front to rear, and is of just the shape talked of for the new hall. Upon this site the building would make a fine appearance, being free from all objectionable other buildings, and therefore could be seen at great advantage.

Many of our merchants and business men have long been of the opinion that there are too many vacant spaces on Pennsylvania avenue. The erection of the hall, therefore, would be agreeable and beneficial, and serve to beautify and set off our principal thoroughfare. If found necessary or deemed advisable the lower or ground floor could be so laid out as to furnish several very handsome stores, which would readily find occupants.

The Stand-pipe.

The finishing touches are about being given to the stand-pipe which is expected to furnish the high portions of the city with water at all seasons of the year, and workmen are busy riveting the joints together. The pump-house is also being covered in, and a line of pipe between it and the stand-pipe is being laid. The additional pressure on the water-pipes, after this work goes into operation, will be likely to play havoc with weak old water-pipes, and those needing attention should receive it immediately. Water Inspector Cox has approved an application of citizens residing in Capitol Hill, College Hill, for the use of water from the stand-pipe, provided that they lay the main at their own expense, under the direction and supervision of the Water Registrar, first depositing the cost—$650 cash—for that purpose. The size of the main will be four inches in diameter.

A Schooner Aground.

The schooner E. L. Graham, Captain Smith, which arrived in the Washington channel Monday night from the Kennebec River, with 250 tons of ice to the Great Falls Ice Company, grounded opposite the Eighth street wharf at high tide yesterday morning. The tug-boat George P. Gilbert went to the assistance of the Graham, but did not succeed in getting her off. Another effort will be made at high tide this morning. The schooner draws twelve feet of water.

Divorce Granted.

Justice MacArthur yesterday granted Lucille J. Trent a divorce from her husband, Richard O. Trent, and gave permission to resume her maiden name of Lucille J. Dandeleit. The parties were married in Detroit, Mich., December 9, 1874, by Rev. L. R. Pike, and lived together until the month of April following, when he abandoned her, and has ever since refused to cohabit with her. Messrs. Birney & Birney were counsel for the complainant.

The "X L" Club of Capitol Hill.

The "X L" Club was organized for the coming season at a meeting held last Friday, at the residence of General Cutler, No. 604 East Capitol street. The following officers were elected for this year: William W. Dodge, president; J. A. Ashley, vice-president; E. R. Olds, secretary; Miss Villa Costa, assistant secretary, and H. W. Olds, editor of the Owl. An executive committee of seven members, including the president and secretary, were elected as follows: W. W. Dodge, Miss V. C. Costa, I. G. Kimball, Jr., E. B. Olds, Miss George Addis, and Miss Helen Kimball. Three new members were admitted. After the business was over the following programme of entertainment was carried out: Reading, by Mr. Mason, Miss K. S. Olds, and Mr. J. A. Ashley; music, by Mrs. K. S. Olds and Miss Chester; recitation of "Mrs. Maloney on the Chinese Question," by Miss Helen Kimball, and a whistling solo by Mr. Henry W. Olds. The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.

MISS VIRGINIA CHARLTON, of Petersburg, Va., will deliver a lecture at the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, on Friday evening next, November 1, on "The Duty of Christian Women." All are cordially invited to attend.
